

Williams Landing Project

Construction update

Track upgrade, Signalling Works and Piling Works

Dear resident / business owner

The contract for the design and construction of the Williams Landing Project was awarded to Abigroup Contractors Pty Ltd in August 2011.

The Williams Landing Project involves the construction of a new premium railway station and an extension and widening of Palmers Road to provide transport access to Williams Landing, one of Melbourne's growing suburbs.

As construction commences on the project, residents are advised that there are some track upgrade and signaling works planned for October and piling works planned for November.

The track upgrade and signalling works (please refer to map below for work location) will include excavation as well as installation of concrete sleepers and rail tracks. The existing underground signalling system will also be relocated to allow for construction of a new section of track.

These works will commence at 8.00pm on Friday 21 October 2011 until the completion of the works, no later than 4.00am on Monday 24 October 2011.

Following these works, the next stage of construction will involve drilling piles to construct foundations for the station platform and Palmers Road extension. Please refer to map above.

These works will commence at 12.00pm on Friday 25 November 2011 until the completion of the works, no later than 4.00am on Monday 28 November 2011.

Please note that due to the proximity of the railway line, and to ensure the safety of the workforce and public, these works are required to take place whilst trains are not operating. Machinery such as excavators, trucks and piling rigs will be used and residents may hear some noise. All efforts will be made by Abigroup to minimise noise and disruptions.

The project team will provide regular information updates to keep the local community and key stakeholders up-to-date as the project progresses.
